This wine is an Estate blend of our two Sangiovese blocks, in equal proportion, from two different clones (VCR 6 bio-type-Brunello di Montalcino & VCR 23 bio-type-Romagnolo), and a touch of our small Aglianico block.

The Brunello bio-type dominates the robust aromas of black cherries, plum and perfumed spice up front, with hints of violet, and carries over to the front palate. The Romagnolo bio-type supplies a warm mid-palate body, filling the mouth with earthy-meaty characters and a touch of nuttiness. The Aglianico, big in body, tannins and acid, is too big for this wine by itself, therefore we only use a touch to fill in the back palate for a long delicate finish.

The ample acids make this wine wonderful for all your Italian meals.
