This classic Foothills Sangiovese evolves in your glass, so let it breathe a bit to bring out its inevitable warm rhubarb, strawberry and tart plum flavors. Aromas of warm caramel, sweet basil and anise with a dash of twizzler candied fruit begin the onslaught to your senses. If you can let it breathe for a couple hours, you will be rewarded with more subtle aromas of roses and lilac with cherry and cranberry flavors complimenting the strawberry rhubarb.

This wine has a lot going on and it lingers with smooth acidity, soft tannins and licorice.

Try this wine with a pasta dish containing sweet Italian sausage with a little anise or fennel, or your favorite pizza.
